

A night scene with a tree, string lights, and a silhouette of a donkey. The background is a deep blue night sky with a tree's branches and leaves silhouetted against it. A string of warm white lights is draped across the scene, with some lights glowing brightly. In the bottom left corner, there is a silhouette of a donkey's head and neck, facing right. The title text is overlaid on the scene.

"Lord, what fools these mortals be!"

Magic, laughter, and love are on the loose in the woods outside Athens in Shakespeare's pastoral comedy! The fairy king and queen are at war, Court and Commoners alike prepare for Theseus and Hippolyta's wedding, and Puck stirs the pot leading two pairs of lovers on a wild and wacky chase in search of true romance.
